THE TURK'S REVENGE

Humane Action on the Part of Foreign Consuls Causes Trouble.

GAVE SHELTER TO MANY ARMENIANS

Permitted Them To Go Aboard Different Ships in the Harbor During the Recent Riots and Now Their Reloading Is Prohibited.

London, Sept. 9.—The Constantinople representative of the United Associated Presses, telegraphing under date of yesterday, says that during the recent rioting in that city the consuls of the various powers arranged that many Armenians should go on board the different ships in the harbor, where they would be safe from massacre. This humane action has resulted in a somewhat awkward predicament, as the government now forbids the reloading or transfer of the refugees. A conference of the ambassadors was held regarding the course to be pursued in the matter and it was arranged to appoint a mixed commission to take charge of the difficulty. The dispatch adds that the consulates are still engaged in sending Armenians of means out of the country. The government is snipping all Armenians of the lower class to their birth places. Many long time residents of the city have been obliged to leave their families and return to the places where they were born, their enforced departure entailing much hardship and pecuniary loss. Each man who is thus sent away receives from the government free passage and the sum of two dollars in money.

Massacred by Turks.

Athens, Sept. 9.—It is officially stated that a number of Armenian refugees who were passing through Scutari, Albania, were attacked by Turks and that twenty of them were killed.

CONDITION OF CROPS.

Weather Bureau's Special Bulletin for States in the East.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The weather bureau last night issued the following crop bulletin: New England—Cool, with light frost, causing some damage to sweet corn and vines; heavy rains across central districts thoroughly filling the ground and doing some damage by washing in southern Maine; tobacco practically gathered and curing well; corn being cut; cranberry picking under way; fair crop. New York—Cloudy, with cold winds, but warming close of week with fine rains which has put soil in good condition for fall seeding; frosty nights, some corn nipped slightly; potatoes generally reported small and few in the hills; bean pulling general. New Jersey—Heavy showers in middle and northern sections on 3d and a general and heavy rain on 5th and 6th has effectually broken the long drought; soil now in fine condition for plowing and seeding; cutting corn and digging potatoes general; severe hailstorm in extreme northeastern section on evening of 3d destroyed some fields of buckwheat and damaged tree fruits; temperature below and rainfall above normal. Pennsylvania—Shortage will result from drought, causing premature ripening of the late crops; local damage by frost in northern counties; considerable corn and buckwheat cut; fall seeding delayed by the dry weather; large grape crop reported. Maryland—General and heavy rains improved pasturage and late crops of potatoes, tomatoes and sweet potatoes, besides fitting ground for plowing and seeding; late corn and tobacco cut short by drought, but corn crop, on the whole, heavy, and tobacco fair; fruit is becoming scarce.

Football Captain Injured.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 9.—Captain Cochran of the Princeton football team, which is preparing here for the championship games, met with a severe accident yesterday during the practice. While trying to tackle he ran into the knee of one of the players and was knocked down. He continued in the game not realizing the extent of his injuries until finally he fell exhausted and had to be carried to his hotel. Doctors Marren and Bryan, who attended him, found that he had fractured two ribs.

Key Registering Company Incorporated.

Albany, Sept. 9.—The United States Registry company of New York city for the registration of keys and other personal property and the owners thereof to and in connection therewith to act as agent for regularly incorporated insurance companies, has been incorporated, capital, $50,000.

New Bicycle Record.

Vienna, Sept. 9.—In the international bicycle tournament here yesterday afternoon Huet and Buechner covered 500 metres on a tandem in 30 2-5 seconds, beating the record for that distance.

Big Mills Again Running.

Lawrence, Mass., Sept. 9. — The Washington mills have started up in full and are again running on full time.

DESERTIONS AND BATTLES.

Serious Trouble with the Crews of the Arctic Whaling Fleet.

New Bedford, Mass., Sept. 9.—Letters just received in this city from the Arctic whaling fleet in winter quarters at Herschell island, report an unusually thrilling experience in the winter and spring. There were thirteen sails there, with a total crews of about 500 souls. Early in the fall reports of rich finds of gold in the Yukon valley created discontent among the crews and desertions followed as early as November. In the first attempt, two Germans ran away to walk to San Francisco, but gave it up and came back five days after the start. In January seven more deserted, but were pursued and overtaken. Four were brought back in irons, but three escaped in a pitched battle with rifles. About the middle of March twelve more deserted and were pursued by twenty officers and sailors. The deserters pillaged many of the native settlements and terrorized the Indians who fled to the fleet for protection. March 17 the pursuers overtook them and a battle ensued, in which forty or fifty shots were exchanged. The pursuit was then given up. Soon after the deserters devastated Hoffman's trading camp, which was in charge of a single Indian. On hearing of the affair Hoffman pursued with ten Indians, overtook the robbers and a desperate battle followed. One of the deserters was killed and one fatally wounded. The rest of the party surrendered, but only six were taken back to the ships in irons, as the others managed to escape on the way. The fleet was reported in excellent condition in May.

CONFESSES TO PERJURY.

A Former New York City Excise Commissioner Forces a Retraction.

New York, Sept. 9.—Edgar M. Tomlinson who testified before the Lexow committee and before the Loyal Legion that he paid money to Commissioner William S. Andrews to influence his action as a commissioner of excise, has confessed that the charge was not true and that he committed perjury in making it. Mr. Andrews brought a suit for slander against Tomlinson for the purpose, as he stated at the time, of compelling him to appear before a jury where the falsity of his accusation could be proven. Tomlinson was arrested and gave bonds, but instead of putting in an answer he wrote a letter to Mr. Andrews confessing that he had made a false charge and begging Mr. Andrews not to prosecute him. Mr. Andrews consented, and an order discontinuing the action has been filed in the supreme court, when the facts became known.

CONNECTICUT PROHIBITIONISTS

They Nominate a Full State Ticket and Name Presidential Electors.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 9.—The prohibition state convention late last evening completed the following ticket, the nominations being made by acclamation: For governor—Edward C. Manchester, Winsted. For lieutenant-governor—C. E. Steele, New Britain. For state secretary—W. L. Chamberlain, Mansfield. For treasurer—George B. Fenner, Groton. For comptroller—A. C. Barton, Chatham. For sergeant-at-arms were also chosen. During the recess the fourth district nominated F. L. Wooster of Winsted for congress. In the second district there was quite a contest for the nomination. Prof. William Park Bradley of Wesleyan university finally secured the nomination. The other candidate was C. M. Whittemore of Meriden.

Gov. Morton's Vacation To End Sept 20

Albany, Sept. 9.—Gov. Morton will leave Twombley camp on Upper St. Regis lake about September 20 and will with his family go to Ellerslie to remain until about November 1 before occupying the executive mansion. The governor expects to make known the latter part of the present week his decision on the report of commissioner Eton R. Brown, who investigated the charges made against Gen. Austin Lathrop, the superintendent of state prisons.

A Matabele Chief Shot.

Buluwayo, Sept. 9.—The British troops on Monday captured Makoni, an important Matabele chief, who had taken a prominent part in the native revolt. He was tried by court martial and sentenced to be shot, which sentence was carried into effect yesterday.

BUSY ON SPEECHES

Major McKinley Obliged To Postpone His Visit to Zoar.

ENGAGEMENTS COMING TOO FAST

Charles Emery Smith Dines with the Republican Nominee and Gives His Views on the Outlook in Maine—Progress of the Campaign.

Canton, O., Sept. 9.—Major McKinley's engagements are multiplying so rapidly that he has decided not to go to Zoar this week, but will spend today and to-morrow to the preparation of speeches which he is to make on Friday and Saturday. Charles Emory Smith dined with Major McKinley last night and left this morning for Erie, Pa., where he is to address the league clubs. He hopes to return to Ohio later in the campaign to make a number of speeches. Mr. Smith, who has just returned from a speaking tour in Maine, says the republicans will carry that state by a majority of probably 20,000. The visit yesterday of the Ohio editors who are in annual session here, greatly pleased Major McKinley.

SENATOR CARTER'S POSITION.

He Explains Why He Is Still with the Republicans in This Campaign.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 9.—Senator Carter's statement regarding the course of conduct he pursued as a delegate to the St. Louis convention is published to-day in the form of an open letter to the members of the republican state convention of Montana which the senator says he will be unable to attend. The senator lauds the republican party for its achievements and on reciting the action of the national convention on the currency question declares he was dissatisfied with the declaration in favor of the gold standard. The platform of the Chicago convention is denounced as a "load greater than silver can bear." He adds: "I do not believe in free coinage coupled with free trade and I do not believe both can be successfully established and maintained by our government. The free trade policy will render the establishment of bimetallism an utter impossibility. After looking the whole situation over it will be found that the republican party has not declared in favor of the gold standard, but in favor of the restoration of silver." He regards the republican declaration as too conservative, but as between its acceptance and that of the Chicago platform, "with its free trade and other objectionable features" the senator finds no room to hesitate and urges on the Montana convention the passing of McKinley electors in the field as its duty.

In Distress at Sea.

New York, Sept. 9.—The steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II., in port her, reports having spoken a British bark which signalled that she was out of provisions, in lat. 39 11 n., long. 44.02 w. The vessel is said to be the steel bark Colessie of Glasgow. She sailed from Sourabaya for Tilietjan, and leaving there April 27 for St. Michaels, where she arrived Aug 3. John E. Levermore, the Colessie's New York agent, says she is probably on her way here, but does not think she was the vessel spoken.

Her Remains Identified.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The woman found dead in Adeus' woods, this place, Monday has been identified by Mrs Ahrend Rohrs of this village as her sister, Mrs. Barbara Herring, aged 53, who disappeared last June from Mrs. Rohrs' home, with whom she lived. She says that her sister was demented and that she had probably wandered into the woods and died of exposure.

Picked Up at Sea.

London, Sept. 9.—The steamer Spaarndam, Captain Boujer, which sailed from New York August 29 for Rotterdam, picked up the crew of the British bark Perfection, Captain Loomer, from Quebec, August 17, for Rio Janeiro. The Perfection had been burned and her crew were compelled to abandon her.

Terrorized by Firebugs.

Springfield, Ky., Sept. 9.—The citizens of this place are badly frightened over the threat of a mob to burn the town if anyone attempts to arrest them. Two buildings have been already burned. Business is practically suspended and armed men are patrolling the streets.

Watertown Daily Gazette Suspends.

Watertown, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Watertown Daily Gazette, a democratic paper which has been published here during the past five months by Postmaster Clare, has suspended publication permanently.

Lord Russell's Visit to Canada.

Quebec, Sept. 9.—Lord Russell of Killowen an party have gone for a trip up the Saguenay river. They will return to-morrow and remain in town until Sunday, when they leave for New York.

HE IS AGAIN NOTIFIED

Mr. Bryan Accepts the Silver Party Nomination.

MEETS THE COMMITTEE AT LINCOLN

The Notification Took Place in the Open Air and the Speeches Were Not Long—Parade, Fireworks and Enthusiasm by the Citizens.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 9.—The national silver party, through its regularly appointed committee, last night formally notified William Jennings Bryan of his nomination by its convention at St. Louis. The ceremonies attending the notification were in strong contrast to those at the meeting at Madison Square garden last month when Mr. Bryan and Mr. Sewall were officially informed that they were the choice of the Chicago convention. Instead of the spacious auditorium with its boxes and galleries, last night's function took place in the open air on the plaza and lawn in front of Nebraska's state capitol building. With the exception of those seated in a few score of chairs on the speakers platform and directly in front of it all the audience were standing. The most marked difference between last night's ceremonies and those in New York was the fact that Mr. Bryan did not read his speech in answer to the information formally given by the committee of the silver party. He made a speech neither long nor short, without the aid of notes, and was frequently applauded. Lincoln's appreciation of Bryan's second visit home since his nomination was shown by parading of free silver clubs, the display of fireworks and frequent exercise of lung power through tin horns and the old-fashioned yell.

Officially Notified.

It was 9 o'clock when Mr. Bryan appeared on the platform. Norris Humphrey of Lincoln called the assemblage to order and in a few words presented George A. Grout of Ohio, chairman of the committee appointed by the national committee to notify Mr. Bryan. Mr. Grout's address was short and at its conclusion Mr. Bryan stepped forward to reply. He said, in part: "Mr. chairman, chairman of the notification committee and the members of the committee: I beg to reply at this time without the formality of a letter. The platform adopted by the silver convention contains but one plank, the plank upon the money question, or upon the silver question, is identical in substance with the silver plank of the Chicago platform. As I have already discussed at length that plank, and as it will not be necessary to enter into any extended discussion at this time, I beg to assure the committee that I accept the nomination so generously tendered by them on behalf of the silver party, in the spirit in which the nomination was tendered."

Chicago Ticket Endorsed.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Saratoga county democratic convention at Ballston Spa nominated William J. Delaney of Saratoga Springs for member of assembly and resolutions endorsing the Chicago platform and Bryan and Sewall were adopted.

Injunction Against Druggists Association.

New York, Sept. 9.—John D. Parks & Son have obtained a temporary injunction restraining the National Wholesale Druggists association from conspiring or combining together, or with other persons, to prevent the firm from freely selling proprietary drugs or other goods. The firm submitted in support of its charge of discrimination on the part of the association an affidavit from a wholesale druggist saying that this association had notified its members that he was selling the Parks & Son proprietary medicines, and on that account the association refused to sell him except at long prices.

Senator Voorhees' Health Not Impaired.

Washington, Sept. 9.—James Paxton Voorhees, son of Senator Voorhees of Indiana, concerning the dispatch from Terre Haute reporting the failing health of his father, said last evening to a reporter: "The dispatch from Terre Haute is wholly without foundation. Senator Voorhees has been perhaps one of the hardest workers in public life, and the fact of his taking up to this time no part in the campaigd means nothing. His physician is authority for the statement from Mackinac, where the senator has been summering, that he is now entirely restored and is preparing to take an active part in the campaign in Indiana."

National Hay Association.

Albany, Sept. 9.—The National Hay association has just been incorporated with the secretary of state for the purpose of fostering trade and commerce in hay, straw and other like products and for advancing the interests of those having as common business relationship in the trade. The principal offices of the association will be in Canajoharie.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The United States cruiser Detroit has arrived at Cheefoo, China.

COL. "PATTIE" WATKINS WED

A Great Event in Ballington Booth's New Salvation Organization, the Volunteers.

New York, Sept. 9.—There was a great gathering of members, auxiliaries and friends of Ballington Booth's Volunteers at Carnegie hall last night on the occasion of the first official wedding in the history of the organization. The principals were Col. "Pattie" Watkins and staff captain Frederick A. Lindsay. The bride was one of the favorite post commanders in the Salvation army and among the first to join the standard of the new army. The groom is believed to have followed his lost heart when he transferred allegiance from the National Salvation citadel in Fourteenth street to the headquarters of the Volunteers in Union square. Mr. Lindsay was stenographer and typewriter for Miss Watkins during her connection with the Salvation army and continued in that capacity in the new organization. Commander Booth and his wife conducted the ceremony, which consisted of the reading of articles of agreement between the contracting parties, and a public invitation to any one present to make known any bar to the marriage. This was followed by public declaration on the part of the participants, each in turn, that they knew of no legal impediment to the union, after which the knot was tied in proper form by a clergyman. This was done because Commander Booth has not been ordained since the formation of the new organization, and he wished to avoid the possibility of giving offense by acting under the license which he obtained as the head of the Salvationists. The affair was of the greatest interest to all in any way connected with the Volunteers, as the bride, who was a prime favorite in the Salvationist ranks, is even more popular under the new banner. Delegations of Volunteers and their friends were present from Boston, Philadelphia, Syracuse, Scranton, Rochester and other places. The special incident of the evening occurred before the ceremony when Commander Booth, saying that though the bride's only duty usually was to answer the minister, yet on this occasion he wanted Col. Watkins to give them a solo. When the last notes of "Fight Manfully On," rendered in the bride's clear soprano voice, had died away, the hall fairly shook with the tremendous outburst of enthusiasm.

Knights Templars Conclave.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Fine weather favored the Knights Templers annual conclave in this city. In the forenoon in Masonic temple the freedom of the city was tendered by Mayor Gibson, to which Grand Eminent Commander Noble made fitting reply. The eminent commander also delivered his annual address, in which he stated that the membership on May 31 was 11,037, of which 780 had been created during the year. The city is profusely decorated and the crowds of Masons and Sir Knights from surrounding towns is very large. The parade during the afternoon was a most imposing one with about 2,000 uniformed Sir Knights and twenty bands in line.

Locomotive Firemen's Convention.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 9.—The fifth biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen will be called to order on September 14. It will last one week. Eugene V. Debs is expected here a few days in advance of the meeting and Grand Master Sargent, it is understood, will arrive here on Saturday. The session, it is expected, will be one of the most important in the history of the organization. From advices received by the local committee more than 2,000 delegates will attend.

Conference of Catholic Priests.

Hartford, Sept. 9.—The quarterly conference of priests of the Roman Catholic diocese of Connecticut was held at the episcopal residence yesterday. Two hundred priests and assistant priests were present and Bishop Tierney presided.

Gold Men's Headquarters.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Chairman Bynum of the national democratic committee has secured quarters at the Palmer house for the campaign committee. He expects to open the headquarters a week from next Monday.

PHILIPPINE REVOLT

The Situation at Manila Reported To Be Very Serious.

BUSINESS AT A COMPLETE STANDSTILL

Insurgents in Cuba Continue Their Attacks on the Railroads—Bridges Blown Up with Dynamite and Spanish Troops Forced Back.

Madrid, Sept. 9.—A special dispatch from Hong Kong to the Imparcial says that the commander of the British gunboat Redpole has telegraphed from Manila that the gravity of the situation at the capital of Philippine islands is such as to oblige him to remain there with his ship. This message indicates that the position at Manila is very serious, though no details are obtainable owing to the rigor of the censorship. Business telegrams have been received at Hong Kong from mercantile correspondents at Manila advising against the shipment of further consignments of goods to the Philippines, and stating that business there is at a complete standstill.

Rebels Still Attacking Railroads.

Havana, Sept. 9.—The rebels continue their attacks upon the railways, and, as has been stated before, they have made travel by rail throughout the country very dangerous. Their latest exploit in this direction was the blowing up with dynamite of the suspension bridge over the Pedernales river, near Candelaria in the province of Pinar del Rio. A train which was conveying newly arrived troops to reinforce the Spanish soldiers in the field was compelled to return to Artemisa by the destruction of the bridge. Another train that was carrying a number of fresh troops to Batabano was fired upon by insurgents, but nobody was hurt. The towns of Cuevitas, in the province of Matanzas, and San Francisco de Paula, close to Havana, have been attacked by rebels, who were, however, repulsed by the garrisons. On their retreat the insurgents set fire to and destroyed several houses on the outskirts of the towns.

DEATH OF CAPT. A. P. COOKE.

Official News of the Sad Event Received in Washington from Paris.

Washington, Sept. 9.—An official dispatch from Paris has been received at the navy department conveying the news of the death of Capt. A. P. Cooke, U. S. N., in the French capital on Monday. Capt. Cooke was born in Cooperstown, N. Y., in 1836. He was graduated from the Naval academy in 1852 and first saw active service in Greytown, Nicaragua. In 1862 he joined Farragut's squadron and was present at the bombardments of Fort Jackson and St. Philip, the destruction of the Confederate flotilla and the capture of New Orleans. In 1862 he was in command of a vessel in Buchanan's flotilla, and in the same year, when Buchanan was killed in action, Cooke was put in command of the flotilla. In 1863 he served in the Red river expedition with Farragut and later with Porter. In 1867 he went as navigator to Europe with Farragut's flagship, the Franklin. In 1869 he was appointed head of the department of ordnance at the naval academy, and later published a text book on gunning which was used by the cadets. He was commissioned commander in 1870, commanded the torpedo boat Intrepid, the Alarm and the steamer Swatara. He was made captain in 1881 and commanded the Lackawanna in 1884-5 in the Pacific station. He also commanded the Vermont at Brooklyn, and in 1888 the Franklin at Norfolk. In 1890 he was ordered to New York as president of the board of inspection of merchant vessels.

Mrs. Dugan Sentenced at Hudson.

Hudson, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Alice Dugan of this city who was the object of much misplaced sympathy and who obtained much notoriety in connection with arrest by New York officials for violating United States internal revenue laws has been sentenced to six months in Albany penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Von der Ahe Married Again.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 9.—Chris Von der Ahe, the owner of the St. Louis National League Baseball club was united in marriage here last evening to Miss Delia E. Wells of St. Louis. The wedding took place at the home of A. J. Koenig, a wealthy jeweler, who, with his wife, were Von der Ahe's neighbors in Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Von der Ahe will go to New York and return to St. Louis next week.

CAUGHT IN FLORIDA.

Marine Monster That Is Part Fish, Part Bird, Part Animal.

Sea serpents are becoming too common, and when Florida people decided to produce a marine monster the serpent family was ignored and the Diabolus Maris was produced.

The picture which is presented was made from a drawing sent to the Kansas City Journal by Capt. George Bier, of the United States navy. The animal was caught off the coast of Florida, at Mosquito inlet, in 72 feet of water.

It was caught on a hook and line, and when dragged aboard the boat was full of fight. In order to preserve the strange monster it was found necessary to kill it, for it was so vicious that it could not be handled.

This remarkable relic of the antediluvian monster seemed to be part bird, part fish and part animal. Capt. Bier described it as follows:

"It has no scales, although it can swim. A portion of its body is covered with hair and when it wants to fly it inflates two windbags behind its wings. This inflation is through its gills which are situated on its breast. It stands upright on its feet which are shaped like hoofs. Its face and body are more human like than anything else and its mouth is like that of a raccoon, garnished with two rows of teeth. It stood about 20 inches high and strutted like a rooster."

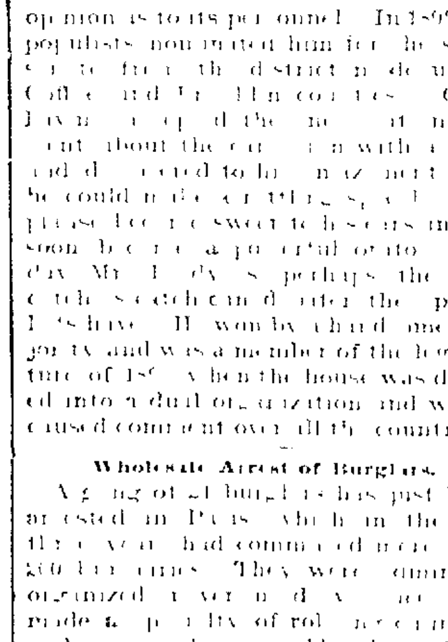

After its capture the monster was christened Diabolus Maris, and was transferred to Tampa, Fla., where it has since been on exhibition. Naturalists who have seen it can find no other name for it, and its like has never been seen before.

Some fish have fins that resemble wings and can be used for flying, but fish do not wear hair. The presence of legs argues that it is not a fish, and its ability to live under water and the gills prove that it is not a bird.

A POPULIST LEADER.

J. W. Leedy, the Silver Candidate for Governor of Kansas.

J. W. Leedy, the populist nominee for governor of Kansas, was born on a farm, reared on a farm and has followed agricultural pursuits during the 47 years of his life. He was born in Richland county, O., but it was not until 1881 that he tried Kansas. In that year he bought a farm in Coffee county and about three years ago he moved up to Leroy and went into live stock dealing. When the Missouri Pacific brought its lines into that part of the state Mr. Leedy was employed in the construction department of the road. Mr. Leedy is a recent addition to the ranks of the politicians. Until four years ago he took small interest in local or national affairs, contenting himself with voting the democratic ticket, regardless of

PURE WATER CORRODES IRON.

Use of Lime in Boilers Will Prevent Further Action.

The corrosive power of pure water on new or unscaled boilers was well illustrated in the city of Glasgow, when new water supply was introduced from Loch Katrine, one of the purest waters in the world, which was available for city consumption. The former supply had been impure and calcareous, and boilers were much coated with lime scale. To the dismay of the users, those who had put in new boilers or new tubes found them rapidly corroded, while the old scaled and coated ones [illegible] from their old [illegible] chemical means [illegible] thus to get, as they expected, the full benefit of the pure water, were also badly troubled by corrosion, unless the old boilers as the scale was gradually removed by the [illegible] and pure water [illegible] were more or less corroded [illegible] to prevent it. It [illegible] however, in this case that introducing a little lime from time to time so as to give the boilers a slight calcareous coating—usually prevented the corrosive action of the water. [illegible] in the course of time the street produced a [illegible] lime organic matter, and peroxides [illegible] in forming a protective oxidized surface which prevented further corrosion.

MISPLACED PUNISHMENT.

Angry Housewife Belabors Her Guest Instead of Her Husband.

An exchange prints a story about Dr. Milne, at one time a popular Congregationalist preacher in England.

He had been holding services at a village in Yorkshire, and a heavy rain having come on had accepted an invitation to pass the night at the house of one of the villagers. The good-hearted host, seeing the minister's clothing drenched, brought out a suit of his own and sent his guest upstairs to put it on.

The good man had made the change and was on his way back to the sitting-room when the woman of the house came out of another room holding in her hands the great family Bible, out of which the doctor was to be invited to read a chapter before the family retired.

At the same time she was not in a very amiable mood. Careful housewives are apt to be put out of sorts by the arrival of unexpected company. Seeing Dr. Milne in his borrowed garments she mistook him for her husband, and as he passed in front of her she raised the book in both hands and brought it down pretty smartly on his head.

"There," she said, "take that for asking him to stay all night."

NURSING SENTIMENT.

The French Cultivate the Love of Valorous Deeds.

Sentiment is a thing of the heart, and is not rather than judgment. The French nurse it by what we call the affections and imagination. During one of the wars between France and England a French officer blew up his ship to prevent its being taken, and he and the crew all perished.

The French government recognized the officer's heroism by entering the name of his sister, his only surviving relative, in the place in the navy list which his name had occupied, and here it remained till her death, says Youth's Companion.

Napoleon Bonaparte conferred upon La Tour d'Auvergne the title of "First Grenadier of the French Army." He had declined promotion to the colonelcy of a regiment, because it would separate him from his brave grenadiers, but he was not insensible to the distinction which the endorsement implied. When he was killed in battle the emperor ordered that his name should be called at every roll call of the grenadiers, and that the sergeant should answer: "Died on the field of honor!"

A HOLE IN THE MOUNTAIN

Wonders of a Cave Near Chattanooga That Puzzle Geologists.

"The most peculiar cave I ever saw," said a Chattanooga man to a Washington Star writer, "is on [illegible] mountain near Chattanooga. It has never been explored and no one really knows whether or not there is much of a cave. The Indians have several legends concerning it, and it is remarkable that no one has ever entered it. It was supposed by the Indians to be haunted and there are some gruesome tales told about it. The only opening yet discovered is on top of the mountain. It has been sounded with [illegible] considerable length without finding a bottom to the cavern [illegible] through the roof of which the opening exists. There is a constant roaring sound like the wind, sometimes [illegible]. It does not sound like water and is undoubtedly caused by air circulating in the [illegible] hole in the mountain. There are no volcanic indications, and the cave is a puzzle to geologists."

Amused More Than Flattered.

A rather amusing story is told of Advocate Auret, one of the Johannesburg reform leaders. The advocate was out on bail and was walking alone (Commissioner street) near the Rand stock exchange with his wife, when he was familiarly addressed by a peculiarly disreputable looking Kaffir. The astonished advocate inquired of the [illegible] why, and wherefore of the greeting, and expressed his annoyance that they had met in the [illegible]. "Oh, yes, we have," retorted the incorrigible black, "we was in P[illegible] jail together, ... was." Mr. Auret felt more amused than flattered.

A Mixed Metaphor.

At one of the British university unions an orator declared that the British lion, whether it is roaming the deserts of India or climbing the forests of Canada, will not draw in its horns or retire into its shell."

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgus, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a Minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years of more, and have never found anything so beneficial or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial Bottles Free at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

Theories of cure may be discussed at length by physicians, but the sufferers want quick relief; and One Minute Cough Cure will give it to them. A safe cure for children. It is "the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results." W. D. Olney.

Poison ivy, insect bites, bruises, scalds, burns, are quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great pile cure. W. D. Olney.

DOUBLE DEALING.

Is the Cause of Many Heart Burnings—A Middletown Case That Was the Opposite.

Double dealing like so many other expressions in the Anglo-Saxon language has different meanings. The text or heading does not refer to the deceitful, hypocritical specimens of mankind who curry favor for their own ends and keep a community in a ferment by relating scraps of confidences. This time 'tis the double dealing of the little conqueror Doan's Kidney Pills—to be more correct the double healing. One member of a family tests them and like disease the infection spreads—another tests them—the result is the same, a cure. Read this testimony carefully. It shows conclusively that Doan's Kidney Pills like kidney disease is no respecter of persons. No class or condition of mankind can stay their action as a kidney remedy they are invincible. Mrs. Mary Carey lives at No. 113 East avenue, and it appears she obtained a box of Doan's Kidney Pills for her little girl aged thirteen. In speaking about the matter she said: "My little daughter fell coming home from school and injured her back. Since then, now over two years, she has suffered a great deal with backache. If she walked any distance her back would give out. If she caught cold she was sure to have a severe and protracted attack. When the last spell occurred I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. E. Mills' drug store, and they strengthened her. Since she stopped taking them she has asked me to get her some more. She dreads a return of the suffering but it shows no indication of seizing her again. So convinced was I of the efficacy of Doan's Kidney Pills and so pleased with the results in my daughter's case that I commenced taking them myself for a slight pain in my loins which accompanied a cold. They removed it in a day or two. After Doan's Kidney Pills cured my little girl's back I have no hesitancy in highly recommending them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by all dealers.

Heavy Gold Withdrawals at 'Frisco.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day stood at $102,251,749. The withdrawals of gold at San Francisco continues heavy. Genuine Fakirs.

Austria-Hungary is suffering from an epidemic of skepticism that is proving fatal to traveling shows. Succi, the faster, was watched and found to be eating at Vienna, a little while ago; and now at Buda-Pesth the "Sleeping Fakirs," whose performance was accepted without question in London, have been exposed as humbugs. They were put to sleep in glass coffins by a hypnotist, remaining comatose and taking no nourishment for a fortnight. Two unbelievers pretended to be figures in the waxwork show where the exhibition was held, and saw them, at night, when the people had left, rise, take a bottle of milk and provisions from under their pillows, and, after eating and drinking, light cigarettes. The fakirs agreed to pay a fine of 500 florins if they were allowed to leave town.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morriston, of Worthington, Ind., "Sun," writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs Annie Stehle, 2625 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a Bottle at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

It doesn't matter much whether sick headache, biliousness, indigestion and constipation are caused by neglect or by unavoidable circumstances, DeWitt's Little Early Risers will cure them all. W. D. Olney.

Don't trifle away time when you have cholera morbus or diarrhoea. Fight them in the beginning with DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. You don't have to wait for results, they are instantaneous and it leaves the bowels in healthy condition. W. D. Olney.

FOUNDING OF ST. PETER'S.

A Little Oratory Built Over the Apostle's Tomb.

In the deep Mamertine prison, behind the Tabulary of the Forum, it was customary to put to death only political misdoers, and their bodies were then thrown down the Gemonian steps. "Vixerunt," said Cicero, grimly, when Catiline and his fellow-conspirators lay there dead; and perhaps the sword that was to fall upon his own neck was even then forged. The prison is still intact. The blood of Catiline, of Vercingetorix, and of Sejanus is on the rocky floor. Men say that St. Peter was imprisoned here. But because he was not of high degree Nero's executioners led him out and across the Forum and over the Sublician bridge up to the heights of Janiculus. He was then very old and weak, so that he could not carry his cross, as condemned men were made to do. When they had climbed more than half-way up the height, seeing that he could not walk much farther, they crucified him. He said that he was not worthy to suffer as the Lord had suffered, and begged them to plant his cross with the head downward in the deep yellow sand. The executioners did so. The Christians who had followed were not many, and they stood apart, weeping.

When he was dead, after much torment, and the sentinel soldier had gone away, they took the holy body, and carried it along the hillside, and buried it at night close against the long wall of Nero's circus, on the north side, near the place where they buried the martyrs killed daily by Nero's wild beasts and in other cruel ways. They marked the spot, and went there often to pray.

After that, within two years, Nero fell and perished miserably, scarcely able to take his own life in order to escape being beaten to death in the Forum. In little more than a year there were four emperors in Rome. Galba, Otho and Vitellius followed one another quickly; then came Vespasian, and then Titus, with his wars in Palestine, and then Domitian. At last, nearly 30 years after the apostle had died on the Janiculus, there was a bishop called Anacletus, who had been ordained priest by St. Peter himself.

The times being quieter then, this Anacletus built a little oratory, a very small chapel, in which three or four persons could kneel and pray over the grave. And that was the beginning of St. Peter's church. But Anacletus died a martyr too, and the bishops after him all perished in the same way up to Eutychianus, whose name means something like "the fortunate one" in barbarous Greek-Latin, and who was indeed fortunate, for he died a natural death. But in the meantime certain Greeks had tried to steal the holy body, so that the Roman Christians carried it away for 19 months to the catacombs of St. Sebastian, after which they brought it back again and laid it in its place. And again after that, when the new circus was built by Elagabalus, they took it once more to the same catacombs, where it remained in safety for a long time.

Now came Constantine, in love with religion and inclined to think Christianity best, and made a famous edict in Milan. And it is said that he laid the deep foundations of the old church of St. Peter's, which afterward stood more than 1,100 years. He built it over the little oratory of Anacletus, whose chapel stood where the saint's body had lain, under the nearest left-hand pillar of the canopy that covers the high altar as one goes up from the door. Constantine's church was found on the south side, within the lines of Nero's circus, partly of it on the north side, and parallel with its length. Most churches are built with the apse to the east, but Constantine's, like the present basilica, faced west, because from time immemorial the bishop of Rome, when consecrating, stood on the farther side of the altar from the people, facing them over it. And the church was consecrated by Pope Sylvester I., in the year 326.—Marion Crawford, in Century.

Fish in Deep Water.

A highly original observation upon the behavior of fish in deep water, so remarkable as to deserve special notice, is attributed to a long-experienced captain of a steam-fishing smack. The fishing boats belonging to the southern portions of the North sea found in their catch lately a disproportionately small quantity of codfish. The captain maintained that he had foreseen this for eight days, because most of the fish caught had sand in their stomachs. He claims to have observed that, just before the fish left the shallow water of the southern banks, they took sand into their stomachs, and soon after fish caught in deeper northern waters showed the same peculiarity. Then, when the time for migrating from the deep waters comes again, the fish dispose of the sand. The theory has been advanced that the sand is taken in as ballast, and is rejected when shallow water is to be returned to. The sand often differs in color and grain from that of the bottom where the fish are found. It is claimed that this sand may supply a guide for the fishermen.—N. Y. Ledger.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 9, 1896.

For President,
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN,
of Nebraska.

For Vice-President,
ARTHUR SEWALL,
of Maine.

The latest news from the Arkansas election is that the Democratic majority will be at least 65,000. The managers of the Republican campaign have dropped the cry of "fraud" and are trying to explain the lands ide by saying that their candidate's espousal of the Prohibition cause cost him many thousand votes. It was necessary to shift their ground for the Republican vote in every county heard from showed a marked increase and this could not be reconciled with the claim of intimidation and fraud.

The coal trust is already planning another advance of twenty-five cents a ton in the prices of coal. Consumers who are oppressed by this great monopoly should remember that its exactions are made possible by the refusal of a Republican Governor to sign bills that would have prevented the combine from robbing the people and by the failure of the Republican Attorney-General to even attempt to enforce existing laws against this most grasping and merciless of all combinations formed to advance the prices of the necessaries of life.

Democratic Arkansas has more than answered Republican Vermont. Arkansas' unprecedented majority is pregnant with significance. It is an evidence of the hold that the free silver sentiment has on the South and West and warrants the belief that all the southern and far western states are safe for Bryan, and justifies the hope of Democratic gains in the pivotal states of the middle west. The great falling off in the Populist vote shows, too, that the Democratic party has absorbed most of those who had identified themselves with the third party and makes it certain that, in spite of Watson and his vaporings, very few Populists in the southern states will take the "middle of the road."

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

More Pupils Registered Than Ever Before—May Be Necessary to Open Another Room.

There were about 1,880 names on the registers of the public schools, yesterday, and several have been added to-day, making the total number registered 1,890. This is the largest number of pupils ever on the rolls of Middletown's schools. Last year, at the opening of the schools, the total number registered was about 1,800.

As stated, yesterday, the primary rooms at the Benton Avenue and Bennett Hill buildings are badly overcrowded, and in the effort to relieve them many transfers of pupils have been made. It may be necessary to open another room for the accommodation of pupils for whom places cannot be made in the school buildings.

HEBREW SERVICES IN ENGLISH.

A Change That Is Pleasing to the Younger Members of the Congregation Beth Israel.

For the first time in the history of the Hebrew Congregation in this city, the services conducted by Rev. Dr. Thalo, of Altoona, Pa., Monday evening and Tuesday morning, were entirely in English.

This was especially pleasing to the younger generation in the city, most of whom do not understand the Hebrew language at all, or at least only imperfectly, and therefore found but little of interest in the services.

On Wednesday evening of next week Yom Kippur or the Day of Atonement begins, and will continue until sunset on Thursday. Dr. Thalo will be present and conduct the services in English on that occasion.

"Our American Cousin" at the Casino, To-night.

It was while witnessing the play of "Our American Cousin" that Abraham Lincoln, then President of the United States, was shot by assassin Booth. The play will be produced at the Casino, to-night, exactly as produced then. During the action of the comedy specialties will be introduced.

Carpet Bag Factory Burglarized.

Thieves effected an entrance to the carpet bag factory, last night, by breaking a pane of glass in the rear window and then unbolting the door. The only articles missed were a few tools from the shop. The burglary is supposed to have been the work of boys.

A Bicycle Stolen.

A white Raleigh wheel was stolen at noon, to-day, from the yard of Ira J. Smith, 13 Knapp avenue. Mr. Smith left the wheel standing by the side of the house while he ate his dinner, and when he came out it was gone. There is no clue to the thief.

BRYAN'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE

Formally Accepts the Democratic Nomination—Endorses Every Plank in the Platform—If Elected Will Not Seek a Second Term—Frank Expression of His Views on the Issues of the Campaign—Tariff Secondary to the Money Question.

BY UNITED PRESS.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 9.—Bryan's letter accepting the Democratic nomination was made public to-day.

He expresses full appreciation of the high honor conferred and of the grave responsibilities accompanying an election to the Presidency, and declares that so deeply is he impressed with the magnitude of the power vested by the constitution in the chief executive and with the enormous influence which he can wield for the benefit or injury of the people, that he wishes to enter office, if elected, free from any personal desire except a desire to prove worthy of the confidence of his country. Human judgment, he says, is fallable enough when unbiased by selfish considerations and, in order that he may not be tempted to use the patronage of office to advance any personal ambition, he announces, with all emphasis which words can give, that if chosen to the presidency he will not seek re-election.

He unqualifiedly endorses every plank in the platform.

On the subject of federal interference in State affairs he says: "Without obedience to law government is impossible. The Democratic party is pledged to defend the constitution and enforce the laws of the United States and it is also pledged to protect and defend the dual scheme of government instituted by the founders of the republic. The name United States was happily chosen. It combines the idea of national strength with the idea of local self-government and suggests 'an indissoluble union of indestructible States.' Our wise forefathers, fearing the tendency towards centralization as well as the dangers of disintegration, guarded against both, and national safety as well as domestic security is to be found in the careful observance of the limitations which they impose. It will be noticed that while the United States guarantees every State a republican form of government and is empowered to protect each State against invasion, it is not authorized to interfere in the domestic affairs of any State, except upon the application of the legislature of that State or of its executive when the legislature cannot be convened. This provision rests upon the sound theory that the people of a State, acting through their legally chosen representatives, are, because of their more intimate acquaintance with local conditions better qualified than the President to judge of the necessity for federal aid. Our forefathers wished us to make as broad an application of the principles of self-government as circumstances would permit and we cannot dispute the correctness of the position taken by them without expressing distrust of the people themselves."

Mr. Bryan declares that he is opposed to any expenditure unless for honest government and says the increase in the bonded debt is entirely inexcusable for the legal right to redeem obligations in gold or silver should have been exercised. The government when administered in the interest of all the people is able to establish and maintain its own financial policy, not only without the aid of any syndicates, but in spite of any possible syndicate that may exist.

The position taken by the platform against the issue of paper money by national banks is, he says, supported by the highest Democratic authority, as well as demanded by the interests of the people.

A dignified but firm maintainance of the foreign policy put forth by Monroe and reiterated by presidents who have succeeded him, instead of arousing hostility abroad, is the best guarantee of amicable relations with other nations, and and is better for all concerned. The United States should resist any extension of European authority in the Western Hemisphere. He favors generous provision for those who risked their lives in the defense of the country and their dependents.

He declares that the producers of wealth create a nation's prosperity in time of peace and defend a nation's flag in time of peril. Their interests ought at all times to be considered by those who stand in official positions and the Democratic party pledges itself to propose and enact such legislation as may be necessary to protect the masses in the free exercise of every political right and in the enjoyment of their just share of the rewards of their labor.

Mr. Bryan favors arbitration of differences of employees of railroads engaged in Interstate Commerce and opposes employing the pauper labor of immigration.

He declares that the recent abuses arising in injunction proceedings have been so emphatically condemned by public opinion that the Senate bill providing for trial by jury in certain contempt cases will meet with general approval.

The Democratic party is opposed to trusts which stifle competition, bankrupt rivals and prey upon society. The interests of the people require such enlargement of the powers of the Inter State Commerce Commission as will enable it to prevent discrimination between persons and places and to protect the patrons of railways from unreasonable charges. The government must prosecute its legal claims against the Pacific railroads.

Mr. Bryan sympathizes with the Cubans and says that the American people do not favor a life tenure in the civil service is evident from the fact that as a rule they make frequent changes among their official elective representatives. A permanent office holding class is not in harmony with our institutions. He declares that New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahama are entitled to statehood, that the policy of improving the great waterways of the country is justified and that the tariff is secondary to the money question which must first settled.

BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Marshall Van Alst, aged fifty-six, of Montgomery, Orange county, was arraigned, to-day, for larceny from the grocer in this city, for whom he formerly worked. He was held in $500 bail for trial. He was arrested in Montgomery, last night.

DAATH OF EX-SENATOR PAYNE.

BY UNITED PRESS

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9.—Ex-Senator Henry B. Payne died this morning.

A CHURCH WEDDING.

Miss Eva C. Wilson and Frank B. Paisley to Be Married To-night, in the First Presbyterian Church.

Miss Eva Cochran Wilson, daughter of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Wilson, and Frank Beeton Paisley, of New York, will be married at 7 o'clock, this evening, at the First Presbyterian Church. The ceremony will be performed by the bride's father. Dr. Gordon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and Dr. Pullman, of Bridgeport, had been invited to assist in the ceremony, but the former is absent from the city and Dr. Pullman is unable to be present on account of illness.

There will be no bridesmaids. The maid of honor will be Miss Paisley, sister of the groom, and best man Joseph E. Paisley, of Mt. Vernon, brother of the groom. The ushers will be John S. Pullman, J. Cooke Pullman, James Pullman, of Bridgeport, Dr. C. LeGrand Kerr, of Brooklyn, Wesley E. Paisley and Harry Savage, of New York.

The music will be under the direction of G. P. Benjamin, organist of the Union M. E. Church, Forty-eighth street, N. Y.

The church and parsonage are being decorated by Belding.

After the ceremony at the church, Mr. and Mrs. Paisley will give a reception to their intimate friends at the parsonage.

They will leave town on the Wells-Fargo Express for a three weeks' bridal tour.

HYMENEAL.

Smith—Wheeler.

There was a quiet wedding, last evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. C. Crans, at No. 6 Grant street, this city, when Mrs. Crans' sister, Miss Josie A. Wheeler was united in marriage with Elmer J. Smith. The bride's pastor, Rev. Dr. Charles Beattie performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock, in the presence of the members of the immediate family.

The bride is the daughter of the late Hayden and Joanna Wheeler. She is a member of the Second Presbyterian Church and of the Sunday School and Young People's Society. She was dressed in a drab cloth suit, trimmed with silk and ribbon.

Mr. Smith is a member of Wallkill Engine Co., and is a young man of good qualities who has a large number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will immediately go to housekeeping at No. 50 South street.

Mould—Benjamin.

There was a quiet wedding at the residence of N. Benjamin, No. 14 Hoffman street at 3 o'clock, this afternoon, when his daughter, Miss Mary, was united in marriage with DeWitt Mould, of Newburgh.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. Dr. Beattie, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

A wedding supper was served after the ceremony.

The happy couple will make a short wedding tour, after which they will take up their residence in Newburgh in a home already prepared by the groom.

The bride is a most estimable young lady. The groom is a salesman in the store of Schoonmaker & Weller, of Newburgh, and is a son of John Mould, of Montgomery.

Sales Talk

With Hood's Sarsaparilla, "Sales Talk," and show that this medicine has enjoyed public confidence and patronage to a greater extent than accorded any other proprietary medicine. This is simply because it possesses greater merit and produces greater cures than any other. It is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. All advertisements of Hood's Sarsaparilla, like Hood's Sarsaparilla itself, are honest. RODE TO INSTANT DEATH.

A MAN AND WOMAN KILLED AT CRAWFORD JUNCTION CROSSING.

James Cunningham and His Sister-in-Law, Margaret Cunningham, Run Down by the O. and W. Day Express—Made Reckless by Drink, Cunningham Drove Toward the Crossing at High Speed—The Wagon Smashed, But the Horses Escaped Uninjured—The Victims' Injuries.

A horrible accident resulting in the loss of two lives occurred at the crossing over the O. and W. track at Crawford Junction, yesterday afternoon. The victims were James Cunningham and his sister-in-law, Margaret Cunningham, wife of Thomas Cunningham, all of whom, and a sister of James and Thomas Cunningham resided together on the Charles T. Redfield place near Bullville.

Mr. Cunningham and his sister-in-law drove to this city, yesterday morning, bringing a load of apples and other produce, which James disposed of to merchants.

Mrs. Cunningham attended the funeral of Mrs. Cahill, at St. Joseph's Church, at 10 o'clock, and then did some shopping.

They started home about 4 o'clock and several persons who saw them noticed that Cunningham was very much under the influence of liquor and was driving recklessly through the streets, his sister-in-law trying to restrain him.

When the wagon neared Crawford Junction, Cunningham was running his horses and was either so much under the influence of liquor that he did not notice that a train was approaching, or he may have been seized with a reckless desire to beat the train and urged his team along, as there can be no excuse offered that the train could not be seen, for as all familiar with the locality know there is a plain view of the railroad for nearly a mile and at no point is there any thing to obstruct the view.

As the wagon approached the crossing train No. 2, the day express, south bound, Harvey Moore, engineer, and William Leddy, fireman, came rushing along at great speed, as all fast trains do at this point. The horses managed to cross the rails, but the engine struck the wagon squarely and crushed it into a hundred pieces, while the horses, freed from the vehicle, ran up the road with the traces and broken harness flying behind them.

Mr. Cunningham was thrown to one side of the track a considerable distance, but Mrs. Cunningham was tossed upon the top of the pilot with such force that her body was wedged under the head of the boiler.

Engineer Moore says he saw nothing of the wagon or horses until they were struck, when he saw pieces of the wagon flying in the air, and then knew for the first that an accident had happened and brought his train to a standstill as quickly as possible.

The body of Mrs. Cunningham was still wedged under the boiler head and was removed with difficulty. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham had been instantly killed.

Neither of the bodies was cut very much, but they both had received a terrible blow when struck and nearly every bone was broken. The neck and back and limbs of both were broken. Mr. Cunningham had a hole in the back of his head and Mrs. Cunningham's skull was crushed in.

Their bodies were placed on the train and brought to the Wickham avenue depot, and Coroner Decker was notified and placed them in charge of Undertaker Donovan.

A child's hat was found at the scene of the accident, and this gave rise to a rumor that a child had also been killed, but such was not the case.

Cunningham was about forty-five years old. Mrs. Cunningham was about thirty, and leaves two little children, one a babe and the other about three years old. Her maiden name was Maggie Smith.

The coroner impaneled a jury, and after they had viewed the remains adjourned the inquest until Thursday, at 5 o'clock, at the Assembly Rooms, in order to secure the attendance of witnesses.

Thomas Cunningham, husband of one and brother of the other victim, came to town as soon as he was informed of the accident, last evening. It was a crushing blow and was almost more than he could bear. His grief was pitiable.

Undertaker Donovan took the bodies to the home, near Bullville, this afternoon.

The funeral will take place, to-morrow, at the Catholic Church in Montgomery at 11 o'clock.

The funeral cortege will leave the house at 9 o'clock.

UNDER A HORSE'S FEET.

A Little Girl Runs In Front of a Team and Is Knocked Down.

W. T. Griggs, the truckman, was driving slowly through North street, this morning, and when in front of Millspaugh's book store a little colored girl darted from the sidewalk directly in front of the horses' heads. Mr. Griggs pulled the team up quickly, but the child was knocked down and one of the horses stepped on the little one's foot.

She was picked up and carried into Mr. Millspaugh's store and in a few minutes recovered from her fright and started for school. She was not seriously hurt.

OBITUARY.

James R. Cody.

James R. Cody, for the past thirty years flagman on the Erie milk train, died at his home in Port Jervis, Monday evening, after an illness of five months.

He was born in Ireland in 1840, and came to this country when seventeen years old. During his residence in Port Jervis he accumulated considerable property, and was one of the progressive and enterprising citizens of the village.

He was a member of the A. O. H., St. Mary's Benevolent Society and Fowler Hose Company.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, William, of Passaic, and James and John at home.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Barrett.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcox Barrett died at the residence of her son-in-law, Chief of Police J. H. Brown, in Port Jervis, yesterday morning, aged sixty-eight years.

She is survived by four children, George, William and Mrs. Theresa Brown, of Port Jervis, and Thomas, of California; also by two brothers, Henry Wilcox, of Oswego, and Nelson Wilcox, of Goshen, and one sister, Mrs. John Terry, of Circleville.

MAY GO TO PINE ISLAND.

The Empire State Granite Works May Leave Goshen.

The Independent says there is talk of the removal of the Empire State Granite cutting works from Goshen to Pine Island on account of the refusal of the Erie Company to run a spur from Pine Island to the Pochuck quarries. Without a switch to the quarries the granite must be hauled two miles on wagons and it can not be done fast enough to fill any very large orders and several such have been refused.

The newly organized Lehigh and New England Company is looking for business and is so anxious to secure the granite company's work that it will lay the spur to the quarries.

Killed by Falling from His Wagon.

G. W. Sutherland, of near White Sulphur Springs, Sullivan county, died Saturday, from injuries received by falling from a wagon. He had been at a wedding anniversary, Thursday night, and Friday morning, while on his way to Livingston Manor, fell asleep and was thrown from his wagon by a sudden jolt, and striking on a rock his back was broken between the shoulders. He retained consciousness until death ended his sufferings. He leaves a wife and four children, ranging in age from eighteen to ten years.

A Very Interesting Publication.

The September number of The Visitor, the parish magazine published by St. John's Church, Goshen, contains much matter of interest to both Catholics and Protestants. Most of the articles are original, but the selected matter has been chosen with much care and judgment. Father McCorry through the magazine reaches a wide audience and is thus increasing his opportunities for Christian usefulness.

Gambling Devices Not Allowed.

Special agents appointed under the Raines law have been notified that all games of chance in bar rooms, such as playing cards, throwing dice, playing pool, nickel in the slot machines, or any games where there is anything at issue are strictly prohibited, and every barkeeper who allows these games to be conducted on his premises will certainly be prosecuted.

Prohibition Rally at Newburgh.

The Prohibitionists of the Hudson Valley are planning a big rally at Newburgh, on Monday, Sept. 14th. Hon. Joshua Lovering, the presidential candidate, will be the speaker. The meetings are to be held in front of the Court House in the afternoon and in the People's Tabernacle in the evening. There will be a band of music and a male quartette.

A Big Striped Bass from the Delaware.

A striped bass weighing thirteen and a half pounds and measuring thirty-one inches in length is on exhibition in a Port Jervis market. It was caught in the Delaware river near Sparrowbush.

The Day of Their Wedding.

Removed to New York City—Sales of Building Lots—Changes in the Erie Freight Office—Will Reopen To-night—Other Notes.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—B. Van Steenbergh and family left Goshen for New York, this morning, where they will reside in the future. The purchaser of the Van Steenbergh residence, Mr. Braun, of Brooklyn, will take possession, Thursday.

—Chas. T. Dunning and Joseph Weir have purchased building lots on Montgomery street. Mr. Weir will erect a cottage in the fall.

—Arthur Gregory has taken a position in the freight office, made vacant by the promotion of Station Agent Van Vliet.

—The stores of our Jewish merchants, which have been closed in honor of their new year festival, will reopen, this evening.

—Frank S. Wetmore is at Asbury Park, where he will remain for six weeks.

—Geo. Van Keuren, Superintendent of Transportation of the Erie, and wife, were in town, yesterday, calling on friends.

—Miss Minerva Markley, who has been spending her vacation at her parents' home in Philadelphia, has returned to Goshen and resumed her studies at the public school.

DOINGS OF THE FIREMEN.

McQuoid's Elect a New Member and Appoint a Drill Master—Excelsiors Talk of Buying Horse—Ellenville and Walton Firemen Want to Parade.

—By unanimous consent of the members present the special meeting of McQuoid Engine Co. held, last evening, was made a regular meeting. James Dwyer was elected an active member and John Callahan was elected an active honorary member. James Short was elected drill master of the company to serve until after the annual parade.

—A special meeting of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Co. was held, last evening, at which the question of the purchase of a team of horses was fully discussed. The matter was finally laid upon the until after the annual parade.

—Fire companies from Ellenville and Walton have requested Chief Thorpe to grant them positions in the procession on the occasion of the annual parade. The request will probably be granted at the meeting of the engineers and foremen, this evening.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

Tried to Drive on the Sidewalk—A Ride Stealer Run Out of Town.

—A Greenville farmer was picked up by the police, last night, in an advanced state of intoxication. He persisted in driving his horse on the sidewalk. The animal was cared for at a livery and the man spent the night in the lockup. He was discharged with a reprimand.

—Another of "Jack" Skelton's O. and W. train riders was run out of town with an admonition to refrain from stealing rides on freight trains.

The Groveville Mills Sold to the Continental Match Co.

The Groveville carpet mills erected by A. T. Stewart, near Matteawan, about twenty years ago, have been sold by Judge Hilton to the Continental Match Co., of which Edwin Gould is president, and the building will be turned into a match factory.

The buildings cost a very large sum of money, the machinery in them cost a million dollars and two dams built in Fishkill Creek to supply power cost $80,000.

COMEDIANS IN ANIMALS.

Grotesque In Appearance and Clownish In Their Manners.

Pigs, especially happy pigs, when not too fat, but only "well liking," and free to wander in a big yard and forage for themselves, are almost the most comic of animals. Almost all the necessary elements are present—fat bodies and fat cheeks, twinkling eyes, tightly-curling tails, short, turned-up noses, voices capable of expressing in a grunt intense greedy self-satisfaction, curiosity and all forms of squeaks and squeals for surprise, fear and panic. The writer recently watched a family of young pigs, about 18 inches long, just turned out to spend the morning in a meadow, and returned convinced that there was not a moment at which their appearance and behavior was not too comical for description. Each flower and weed was tasted by the little pigs with the air of a connoisseur trying a new dish, and when they found a horse lying asleep taking its Sunday rest the whole litter stood in a semicircle round its head as if grouped to sing in a chorus.

Pigs are so funny, and everyone so thoroughly recognizes the fact now that it seems rather odd that the discovery should be so recent. There is plenty of allusion to the pig as a filthy, ugly creature in the east, and many old English anecdotes of their cunning and knowing ways about weather and food, but except the pig-selling scene in the Acharnians, which is sadly wanting in humor, there is hardly any early recognition of the comicality of pigs. The reason is that it is only the modern improved British pig that is comical. His alone are the round stern, the curly tail, the short nose, the dumpling cheeks and the fine, high spirits. The wretched greyhound pig of the east or of the unimproved breeds of Europe has not an atom of humor in him. Even a young wild boar is a glum little fellow, only growing lively as he grows hungry. We owe the "comic pig" to the encouragement of the Smithfield show and the Royal Agricultural society. But there is room for difference as to the humorous side of animal life in creatures which are not domesticated and have never changed.

The owl is a case in point. The Greeks looked upon him as a grave and wise bird and assigned him to Athene. We think his appearance comic, and in common talk the owl represents a bewildered, rather dense person, who cannot see the obvious. Though the Greek revered the owl, the Hindoo feeling is exactly the same as ours. To call a stupid servant "ooloo" ("you owl") would convey exactly the same meaning in India as it would here. A physical explanation is just possible. We and the Hindoos think of the night owl, a bird bewildered by light. Athene's owls, which are now sold in large numbers in London as pets, are little, wide-awake ground owls, able to see by day as well as by night. Most people who have watched penguins hopping on the ground will own that when moving about they are irresistibly funny. Their little wings, like fat hands without arms, round, white waistcoats, short necks and short legs with little, fat, black feet, make them a bird edition of Mr. Pickwick. Their only movement is a series of hops, with the head bent nervously forward as if they were afraid of falling—which they are—and their little wings stuck out on each side to balance them. Of course, the penguin has not the least notion that it is funny or amusing, and is as uncomfortable as a Chinese lady trying to walk across a rice field. Puffins rank high among the comic birds. Their "make-up," which is that of a city waiter, is enhanced by the big red and yellow bill, which is set on like a Guy Fawkes' mask. Young puffins, which have not developed this adjunct to "facial expression," are far less ludicrous to look upon and have none of the exaggerated, inspector-like air of their seniors. The Japanese artists, who have a fine sense of the ludicrous in nature, but usually read in some portion of human wit into their studies of animal life, show a proper appreciation of the comicality of the crab. They cast bronze crabs in all attitudes, the most effective being the enraged crab sticking up its pinching claws in a position of defense. If their mechanical skill also allowed of a clockwork movement, by which the crab could be depicted retreating sideways, with his claws raised and snapping, these works of art would be perfect illustrations of the comic side of submarine life.—London Spectator.

CAR RUN ONCE A MONTH.

Novel Street Railway System That Warrensburg (Mo.) Boasts Of.

In the town of Warrensburg, Mo., is a street railway system and nearly three miles of track over which a street car makes a trip once each month and not oftener. The road was built five years ago by M. Fairchild Dowd and Frank Wood, boom-time promoters, and was part of their scheme to make a great summer resort of Electric Springs. They built a big hotel at the springs and a street car line to and through the principal streets of Warrensburg. Then the collapse came.

The franchise granted to the street railway by the town council required that cars run over the line each month. So to hold the franchise, an old and rickety bobtailed car is run out of the barn once a month, and mules are attached to it to draw it over the line, and then it is put up in the barn to rest another month.

The roadbed of the line has been so disturbed by frosts and rains that the rails are twisted and bent, and the car jumps the track in going a short distance a great many times. Sometimes it takes two days to make the round trip. When the car makes its regular monthly round the people turn out to see it and banter each other about it. It is considered a rich joke to induce a traveling salesman or any other stranger to board the car.—N. Y. Telegram.

MOTHERS recovering from the illness attending childbirth, or who suffer from the effects of disorders, derangements and displacements of the womanly organs, will find relief and a permanent cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Taken during pregnancy, the "Prescription"

MAKES CHILDBIRTH EASY

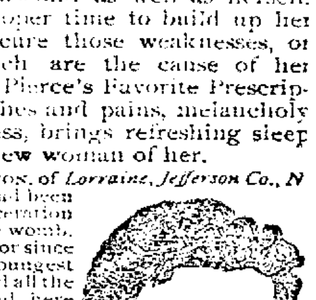

by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature and shortening "labor." The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the dangers thereof greatly lessened, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother strengthened and built up, and an abundant secretion of nourishment for the child promoted. If be delicate, run-down, or overworked, it worries her husband as well as herself. This is the proper time to build up her strength and cure those weaknesses, or ailments, which are the cause of her trouble. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep and makes a new woman of her.

Mrs. ABRAM LYON, of Lorraine, Jefferson Co., N. Y., writes: "I had been suffering from ulceration and falling of the womb, for several years, or since the birth of my youngest child. I consulted all the physicians around here and they gave me up and said there was no help for me.

At last, almost discouraged, I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and took five bottles. It is three years since and I have not had any return of the trouble. I feel very grateful, and in fact, owe you my life, for I do not think I should have been alive now if I had not taken your medicine."

DOGS IN FULL DRESS.

An English Fad Soon to Be Adopted by American Cranks.

The Latest London Fashion Dictates That Canine Raiment Must Be Stylish and "Proper"—How the Pets Are Dressed.

No really high-toned dog should be seen after six o'clock in anything except evening dress.

Dress suits for dogs are the latest things for which all swell tailors are receiving big prices.

The pet dog of the upper ten now has as much care bestowed upon his toilet and wearing apparel as has his master or mistress.

The fad started with Mrs. M. Nugent, of No. 120 Bond street, London, who, being of the opinion that dogs, particularly the thin-skinned ones, were not sufficiently clad by nature in winter, decided that dogs deserved real sure enough clothing more than a good many men did. So she clothed every dog in her kennel in the latest and most expensive "togs."

Society readily adopted the new fashion, and as a result dogs of high degree may be seen any day strolling up and down the fashionable thoroughfares of London town, arrayed in as fine linen and as correctly tailor-made clothes as their owners.

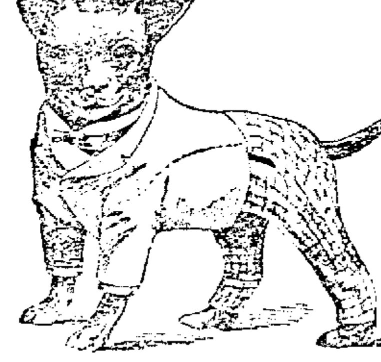

It may sound strange to speak of a dog in collar and cuffs, and wearing a frock coat and vest, but the sight is not an unusual one in London parks, and dealers in New York say that American dogs will be doing the self-same thing before the close of the summer.

The dogs' toilet club is familiar to every one, but a bull terrier or collie arrayed in a stiff, standing collar, immaculate shirt front and spotless cuffs around each leg is a sight decidedly unique.

Dog owners in "Lunnon" go even further than that, and Lady Blankington's pet mastiff carries on a very fashionable correspondence with Lord Bromoseltzer's bloodhound, the owners, of course, writing the tender epistles in the names of their respective pets.

Quite naturally, having arrived at the dignity of coat, collars and cuffs, the dogs must have garden parties and teas, and they go to these purely social functions arrayed in clothing of the very latest cut and style, attended by their owners, who vie with each other in the elaborateness of their pets' wearing apparel.

So popular has this odd conceit become among the English lovers of dogs that Mrs. Nugent has all she can do attending to the demands of her canine customers for coats, cloaks, collars and cuffs of the latest cut and design.

Dealers in dog furnishings in this country, says the New York Journal, are already preparing for winter orders for "dog suits," in anticipation of the demand which is sure to come. A Duane street tailor, who makes a specialty of dog clothing, said, speaking of the matter:

"The old style of dog blanket did not protect the chest or legs of the dog, and in consequence did not half accomplish its purpose. The new dog clothing covers not only the body of the dog, but his chest and legs, two portions of his anatomy which are particularly susceptible to the cold. The new dog coats are sometimes buttoned and sometimes laced down the back or front as the particular taste of the owner may dictate.

"With this way of dressing dogs there is no limit to the freaks of fancy individual owners may take, and some outfits for pet dogs are striking, to say the least. There are waterproof storm coats, light-weight coats and heavy coats for the coldest weather. We can and do make anything which our patrons order in this line."

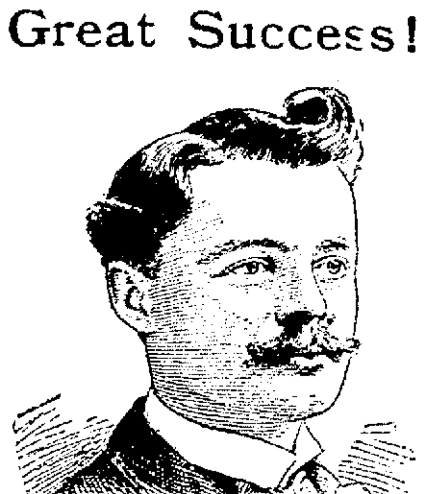

With the various styles and combinations of dress prevalent in New York to choose from, one may expect before snow flies to see the dog-fancying man-about-town strolling down Fifth avenue followed by his pet bulldog arrayed in a pink shirt front, white collar and cuffs, and a "proper cut" diagonal frock, the whole covered by a regulation covert coat. The fact that the fad has found favor in England is quite sufficient to popularize it here, and a "London dog tailor's" sign on Fifth avenue need, in the near future, occasion no surprise.

The accompanying illustration of one of these pampered pets of the canine world shows to what limits this very modern fad has been brought. There is no telling whether doggy likes it or not, but that doesn't matter—the only object is to produce an effect.

Wonderful Vitality of Toads.

We have all read of the discovery of toads "in solid stratas of stone," where food and air sufficient to sustain life could not have possibly been had. We have not only read these stories, but the majority of us have put them down as Mulhatton yarns which were written by some one who did not expect them to be believed. Now comes the scientist, M. Victor Lagroche, who says that he has imprisoned toads in masses of mixed plaster of Paris and found them "well, fat and hearty after a lapse of eight years." He argues that if such creatures can live for years without air, food or light they "can continue to live on indefinitely."

Have had four months of success, much more than was expected for the first few months. What is the cause of our increase in business? Why the people realize we are HEADQUARTERS, and that all our dealings are upright and honest, and for that reason they patronize us. We wish to thank those who have already placed confidence in us, and hope to share more patronage by using all our patients who deal with us honestly. Our Examination is FREE and Prices the Very Lowest.

The eye should be properly fitted and treated, as it is the most important part of one's person. Without your eyesight you can do nothing. So it is for your own advantage that you go where you have your eyes properly treated, as this is the place, as we do nothing but treat the eye, so we are Headquarters. You are always welcome.

SUPREME Court, county of Orange—John E. Corwin, plaintiff, against Charles G. Baldwin, individually, and as administrator, with the will annexed, of the goods, chattels and credits of May Stanton Baldwin, deceased, and also as the general guardian of the person and estate of Elizabeth A. Baldwin, a minor, and of Adriance Baldwin, a minor, Elizabeth A. Baldwin, Adriance Baldwin, William G. Stanton and Margaret Stanton, his wife; Albany Hardware and Iron Company, Russell and Irwin Manufacturing Company, George B. Adams, Jay A. Rickard, and Anna B. Baldwin, wife of Charles G. Baldwin, defendants.

In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale, rendered in the above entitled action, at a Special Term of the Supreme Court held at the Supreme Court Rooms, in the Brewster Building, in the city of Newburgh, and State of New York, on the 22d day of August, 1896, Hon. William D. Dickey, Justice, and duly entered in the Orange County Clerk's office, I, the undersigned Referee named in said judgment, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the Holding House, in the city of Middletown, N. Y., on the 17th day of September, 1896, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, all and singular the lands and premises in said judgment and decree described as follows:

All that tract or parcel of land, situate in the city of Middletown, county of Orange, and State of New York, bounded and described as follows:—Beginning at a post (now a bolt in the ground) standing on the south side of Wickham avenue, thirty-three feet on a course of north sixty-four degrees east from the northeast corner of the house late of Isaac Smith, deceased, and forty-six feet on a course south eighty-seven and one-half degrees west from the center of an elm tree, and runs from thence along the south side of West Main street south eighty-two degrees west six feet to a bolt in the ground twenty-two feet and five inches northwesterly from the northwest brick corner of said Hulse's house; thence south twenty-one degrees west two hundred and twelve feet to a bolt set in the ground; thence south about eighty-two degrees west six feet; thence south twenty-one degrees and twenty minutes west about thirty-five feet and three inches to the northerly corner of a lot heretofore sold to Samuel D. Horton; thence along said Horton's lot south sixty-four and three-quarters degrees east sixty-four feet and nine inches; thence north eighteen and one-quarter degrees east two hundred and seventy-two feet and six inches to the south side of Main street and Wickham avenue; thence along the south side of Main street and Wickham avenue north eighty-eight and three-quarters degrees west forty-seven feet and six inches to the place of beginning.

Being the same premises conveyed to Anna T. Hulse, the party of the second part, hereto by Howard S. Conkling, as assignee of Benjamin C. Woodward, by deed dated March 20th, 1882, and recorded in liber 320, page 26, of deeds in Orange County Clerk's office; and by Benjamin C. Woodward and Matilda H., his wife, by deed dated March 21st, 1882, and recorded in liber 325 of deeds, at page 22, in Orange County Clerk's office; and by Nathaniel T. Smith, by deed dated Sept. 8th, 1886, and recorded in liber 353 of deeds, at page 346, in Orange County Clerk's office.

Excepting and reserving thereout a small triangular piece conveyed by the said Anna T. Hulse and her husband to Nathaniel T. Smith, by deed dated Sept. 8th, 1886, and recorded in liber —— of deeds, page —— in said Clerk's office.

The said party of the second part is to have the same right to drain the cellar across the lot adjoining the said lands into the sewer running through the adjoining lot, and also the right to run a drain across the said adjoining lot to the said sewer at two places below where the drain from the house enters the said sewer, but no fruit trees or ornamental trees are to be disturbed and land to be put in as good condition as it was before the drain was made. Also the right to tap the sewer in those places for the said drain as provided in said Howard S. Conklin's deed.

Dated at Middletown, N. Y., August 25, 1896.

SUPREME Court, State of New York—Joanna [illegible], plaintiff, vs. Hillside Cemetery Association.

In pursuance to an order duly made by Hon. Warren B. Dickey, one of the Justices of this court, at a Special Term thereof, and entered in the office of the Clerk of Orange county, on the 16th day of March, 1896, in the above entitled action, notice is hereby given to all the creditors of the Hillside Cemetery Association to exhibit and prove their claims, as required by law, to the said receiver, Charles C. Lucky, at his office, No. 6 North street, in the city of Middletown, Orange county, New York, on or before the 20th day of September, 1896, and there to make themselves parties to the action.

It is further provided in and by said order that the creditors of the said corporation who may default in so doing, shall be precluded from all benefit of the judgment to be entered herein, and from any distribution to be made hereunder.

Dated March 16th, 1896.

THE People of the State of New York to all persons interested in the estate of George E. [illegible], assignor to George H. Decker for the benefit of creditors, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear at a term of the County Court of Orange county, to be holden at the Court House, in the village of Goshen, N. Y., on the twenty-fourth day of November, 1896, at eleven o'clock a. m., then and there to show cause why a final settlement of the accounts of the above named George H. Decker, as assignee of the above named George E. Gillen, for benefit of creditors, should not be had, and if no cause be shown, then to attend the final settlement of said assignee's accounts.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto caused the seal of said County Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness Hon. John J. Beattie, County Judge of Orange county, this 28th day of August, 1896.

How to Live a Century

In an address on old age, recently published in the British Medical Journal, Sir James Crichton Browne, M.D., LL.D., says: "Man is entitled to live one hundred years."

Many men have lived a century and not one of them has ever committed suicide. Note that fact. It is a simple question of wear and repair. Accidents excepted, a human life is measured by the body's power to build itself up as fast as use tears it down. In health this is done.

But disease attacks it. Appetite and digestion fail; strength declines, flesh melts like snow. What can stop the wasting and replace the loss?

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of lime and soda.

It is a body-builder. It is the essence of the elements and principles that feed, nourish, reconstruct. It is fuel fat for the vital fire; it makes red blood; it stops the wasting; it puts back the lost flesh.

Hence its brilliant results in cases of anaemia, bronchitis, chronic gastric and intestinal disorders and consumption. The oil (easily digested and assimilated) forms flesh and tissue; while the lime promotes the growth of bone. It is like an architect in wood, in stone and in iron—all at once.

In Scott's Emulsion the taste of the oil is fully disguised. It does not nauseate the most delicate stomach.

No other emulsion is "just the same as," or "as good as" Scott's. There is a radical difference.

Accept no substitute.

SUPREME Court, county of Orange—William P. Vanderden, plaintiff, against Charles S. Carter and Lulu I. Carter, his wife, defendants.

In pursuance and by virtue of a judgment and decree of foreclosure and sale, rendered in the above entitled action, at a Special Term of the Supreme Court, held at the Chambers of the Justice, in the city of Newburgh, Orange county, N. Y., on the twenty-second day of August, 1896, Hon. William D. Dickey, Justice, and duly entered in the Orange County Clerk's office, I, the undersigned Referee named in said judgment, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the Holding House, in the city of Middletown, N. Y., on the 15th day of September, 1896, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, all the right, title and interest of the defendants above named, in and to all and singular the lands and premises in said judgment, described as follows:

Being all that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate, lying and being on the northerly side of Genung street, in the city of Middletown, county of Orange, and State of New York, and known, designated and laid out as lot No. one on a map of the property of W. W. Harford, dated December 2d, 1893, made by Charles H. Smith, C. E., and filed in Orange County Clerk's office September 8th, 1893, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the said side of Genung street one hundred and eighty-four feet northwesterly from the north corner of Genung street and Sprague avenue, being at the south corner of the lands formerly belonging to Hill and Robertson; thence north forty-two degrees and thirty minutes east along the southeast line of said lands of Hill and Robertson one hundred and three feet or thereabouts to a point at the west corner of lot No. five on said map; thence in a southeasterly direction along said lot No. five about forty-six feet to a point in or near the bank of the brook being at the north corner of lot No. two on said map; thence south forty-two degrees and thirty minutes west along the west side of said lot No. two, one hundred and thirteen feet or thereabouts to said Genung street; thence north forty-one degrees west forty-six feet to the place of beginning, containing more or less.

Together with all the first parties' right, title and interest of in and to all the lands lying in front of said lot to the center line of Genung street, subject, however, to the rights of the public therein for all street and highway purposes, as described in a deed from William W. Harford and wife to said Charles S. Carter, book 414, page 504.

Dated at Middletown, N. Y., August 25, 1896.

Medicine Up to Date.

"Hello, Sinker! I hear you've been sick."

"Yes. I went out camping and made an ass of myself sleeping in the open air."

"What was the matter?"

"The doctors didn't seem to agree. Dr. Lancet said something about a congested condition of the mucous membrane, and Dr. Pellet said I had a cold in my head."

"When did Dr. Lancet graduate?"

"Last spring."

"And Dr. Pellet?"

"O, he's been practicing for 40 years."

"That's all right, then. They probably meant the same thing."—Chicago Tribune.

He Succeeded.

"This is the saddest case of all, and yet he achieved his ambition."

The keeper paused, and with pitying eyes the visitors gazed on the hopeless expressionless face of the patient from which all traces of intelligence had vanished.

"How did he come to this sad state?"

"He was out of work and endeavored to make himself eligible to serve as a petit juror."—Truth.

Case of Life and Death.

"Well, kunnel, what did that No'the'n docto' prescribe fo' yo'?"

"A little whisky and watah, sah, befo' each meal."

"What did yo' tell him?"

"I said: 'Docto', if yo' strongly advise such a cou'se, and say that nothing else will save me, I will, sah, as yo' prescribe, add a little watah.'"—Chicago Tribune.

The Coming Shakespeare.

Mrs. Chaffie—I'm afraid there's something the matter with Johnnie.

Mr. Chaffie—What makes you think so?

Mrs. Chaffie—He sits in a corner all day, and doesn't say anything to anybody. Either he is going to be a great poet, or he is going to have the measles. I can't decide which it is.—Texas Sifter.

A Fearful Threat.

Irate Suburban Resident—See here! If you don't stop getting out that infernal lawn-mower of yours every morning at four o'clock, I'll—I'll—

Next Door Neighbor (defiantly)—Well, what'll you do?

I. S. R.—I'll—I'll start my daughter to practicing on the piano every morning before breakfast.—N. Y. Weekly.

Odd Changes.

Reginald—Time brings about some odd changes, doesn't it?

Harold—I should say it did. Look at the matter of costumes. Why, when we played tennis we turned our trousers up at the bottom and now that we play golf we turn our stockings down from the top.—Woonsocket Reporter.

Paid in Full.

"The feeling was lovely," said the lawyer.

When the jury gave him a verdict his client had kissed him enthusiastically.

"But," he added, with a sigh: "I'm afraid it is the only fee that I shall get from her."—Town Topics.

Disappointed Ambition.

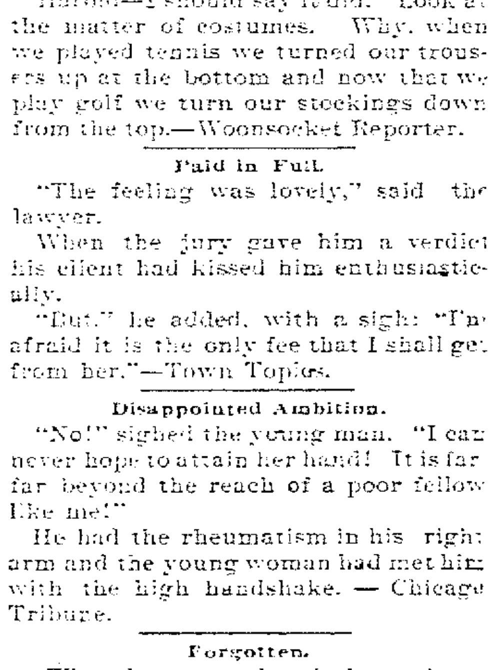

"No!" sighed the young man. "I can never hope to attain her hand! It is far far beyond the reach of a poor fellow like me!"

He had the rheumatism in his right arm and the young woman had met him with the high handshake.—Chicago Tribune.

Forgotten.

What changes mark a single year!
How favors smile and flee!
You mention "Trilby," and they sneer,
And murmur: "Who is she?"

Choosing His Company.

"You say you would vote for a hog if it were nominated by your party?"

"Yes, I would."

"Well, of course, a man ought to stay where he belongs."—Chicago Record.

The Question at Issue.

"Isn't it about time you paid me that little bill?" asked one of his creditors of Stubbs.

"My dear sir," said Stubbs, "it isn't a question of time, it's a question of money."—Town Topics.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used by millions of mothers for their children while teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums and reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP.

Why Is It.

If catarrh is a blood disease, as some claim, that physicians frequently advise change of air and climate to those suffering? Catarrh is a climatic affection, and nothing but a local remedy or a change of climate will cure it. Ely's Cream Balm is so efficient as to do away with the necessity of leaving home and friends, causing instant relief and is a real cure of catarrh.

Many a day's work is lost by sick headache, caused by indigestion and stomach troubles. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the most effectual pill for overcoming such difficulties. W. D. Olney.

If you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diarrhoea it is a reliable remedy. We could not afford to recommend this as a cure unless it were a cure. W. D. Olney.

The whole system is drained and undermined by indolent ulcers and open sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve speedily heals them. It is the best pile cure known. W. D. Olney.

All druggists guarantee Dr. Miles' PAIN PILLS to stop Headache. "One cent a dose."

A TICKET SCALPER ARRESTED.

Charged With Forgery in Connection With the Sale of Shohola Tickets.

Erie detectives on Sunday arrested a ticket scalper named Stephen Daily, of Eldred. He has been accustomed to go to New York, on train 12 Sunday mornings, buy a number of excursion tickets, return on the excursion train and sell his return checks. There is a small black diamond on one corner of these checks intended to prevent scalping, which the conductor was required to punch out. This Daily cut out so ingeniously as to deceive the officials and he will have to answer two charges—scalping tickets and forgery.

Although there was but one arrest some evidence has been obtained against other parties.

OUR AMERICAN COUSIN.

To Be Played at the Casino To-night by a Strong Company.

The beautiful comedy drama, "Our American Cousin," will be produced at the Casino, to-night. The year finds this standard old comedy interpreted with an excellent cast, and we are merely echoing the sentiments of press and public when we say, "see it and you will witness the most refined, legitimate and handsomely costumed comedy drama now before the public." Special attention has been paid to the musical portion of the comedy, as some excellent high class specialties have been engaged, conspicuous among which is "Our American Cousin" Quartette.

Shot His Comrade.

Sterling Thorpe with several other members of the Newburgh camp of Sons of Veterans who guarded the Union Veterans' camp at Clark's woods, from Saturday until Monday, was shot in the groin, Sunday, by Robert Ramey who was carelessly using a revolver in the camp.

Ramey was held in $500 bonds to await the result of Thorpe's injuries which may be serious.

First Presbyterian Woman's Missionary Society Meeting.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. D. B. Harford, No. 55 Highland avenue, to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock. A large attendance is desired, and a special request is made that every woman in the church try to become actively interested in missionary work.

Declined the Call.

Rev. Ross W. Bodine, of Springfield, Mass., has declined the call extended to him by the Reformed Church of Port Jervis.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years it was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

A Dance in Prospect—Some Local Notes—Personal Mention—The Hard Case of Mr. Aston.

From a Special Correspondent.

—The Misses Ireland will give a dance, on Saturday evening, at the home of Charles Backman, at Stony Ford. The hours will be from half past seven to midnight.

—There will be no services at St. James' Church, this week, owing to the absence of the rector.

—The ladies of St. James' Guild met at the chapel, this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, to decide upon plans for winter work.

—Miss Anna Van Sickle is quite seriously ill at her home in Goshen.

—Several cows belonging to John Logan, of this village, were poisoned, on Sunday night. They will probably recover.

—Chas. Berdell and family and Mrs. C. V. D. Gott returned from Atlantic City, on Monday evening.

—We read how, in olden times, many apostles and priests were martyred, persecuted and obliged to seek refuge in caves and holes in the ground and similar damp and unpleasant places from those who had designs upon their lives and liberties. Even in modern days, too often the shepherds of human flocks are subjected to a system of petty annoyances and persecutions. The person who feels it his duty to tell "the minister" all the unpleasant things that are said or said to be said about him by members of his congregation: the one who criticises him and his teachings in the presence of children, thus destroying his influence and consequently his usefulness; and the one who tells him all the petty tittle-tattle of the town or village,—each and every one must lay another burden upon the shoulders of the man whose cares (and who has heavier cares and responsibilities than he to whom is intrusted the cure of souls?) are already weighty enough. There are few cases though, we hope, so hard as that of the Rev. Mr. Aston, of Brooklyn, whose sufferings were recently reported in the newspapers. He was unfortunate enough to have a congregation whose members wanted to know. Their thirst for information seems to have been exceeded by none, even by that of Li Hung Chang. They wanted to know, among other things, all about his personal and private affairs, and, when he refused to keep them posted, induced his wife to betray them. She not only sided with his enemies but went away and shut up the house, so he, being homeless, was obliged to take up his abode in the organ loft of the church. Now an organ loft may be a few degrees better than a cave or a hole in the ground, but it cannot be exactly a cheerful place in which to set up housekeeping. Perhaps the reverend gentleman felt that better an organ loft and peace withal than a frame house and curiosity therewith. G. H.

HOYT'S "A BUNCH OF KEYS."

A Very Amusing Farce Comedy at the Casino, Saturday Evening.

At the Casino, Saturday evening, the ever successful farce comedy "A Bunch of Keys", will be presented by the talented soubrette, Ada Bothner, and a strong company of favorite comedians and singers. It is a curious medley of ridiculous situation and amazing perplexities, overflowing with unexpected denouements, with drollery enough to make it irresistible. The interest of the audience is not allowed to lag for a moment and so cleverly is it arranged that eager expectancy is the prevailing sentiment for fun of a rollicking kind. "A Bunch of Keys" is decidedly entitled to first place.

Wheelmen Have Rights.

From the Goshen Independent

A few nights ago there was a collision in Walden between Eli Storm, who was riding a bicycle, and John Goetschius, who was in a wagon, the result being that Storms' wheel was ruined and he was injured. He claimed that Goetschius had deliberately run him down and Police Justice Verity, taking this view of the case, held the defendant in $150 bonds to appear before the grand jury.

The Tints of Autumn.

The forest trees, and especially the maples, give unmistakable evidence that autumn is here. Some of them have already taken on brilliant tints of red and gold, which contrast most charmingly with the bright green foliage of other trees.

OVER THE SHAWANGUNKS.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS IN SULLIVAN COUNTY ARE DOING.

All the News from All Parts of the County—Many Matters of Interest Condensed from Our Sullivan Exchanges and Contributed by Wide Awake Correspondents.

—There are eight suits against the O. and W. on the calendar of the September term of the Supreme Court and sixty-one against the Erie.

—Liberty real estate dealers report considerable inquiry from city people for real estate in that village.

—Charles Stanton, of Liberty, showed seven horses at the county fair and won seven premiums, five of which were first premiums.

—There are now thirty patients at the Sanitarium, which is all that can be accommodated. The capacity of the institution will be largely increased another year, by the erection of more cottages. The next addition, however, will be the erection of a $3,000 residence for the use of the physician in charge. Work on this building will commence immediately.—Liberty Gazette.

—The O. and W. is lengthening its switches at Livingston Manor so that they will hold twenty more cars. When the work is completed nearly 200 cars can be accommodated in the yard at that station.

GREENVILLE.

Church Announcements—A Church Festival.

Correspondence ARGUS AND MERCURY.

—In the absence of our pastor, next Sunday, to help in the reopening services of the M. E. Church at Mt. Freedom, N. J., our pulpit will be filled by the Rev. Mr. Hill, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church at Ridgebury.

—The good people of Eatontown are down for a church festival at Geo. Skinner's Thursday evening, Sept. 17th, to which all are most cordially invited. If stormy, the next fair evening.

—The regular religious services at the Clark school house will take place on Tuesday evening, the 14th.
